

How to Split and Merge

1. Go to the Tranchess at <https://tranchess.com/>
2. Connect your wallet to the platform.
  1. Tranchess now supports Metamask, Wallet Connect and Binance Chain Wallet.
  2. In our guides, we will use Metamask as an example.
3. Enter Primary Market through any of the two tabs and you will find "Split & Merge" there :

The screenshot shows the Tranchess website interface. At the top, the navigation bar includes the Tranchess logo and links for Swap, Primary Market, Staking, and Docs. A red arrow points to the Primary Market link. Below the navigation bar, a dark banner contains a thank-you message for reaching a deposit cap of 300 BTCB. The main heading reads "Tokenized Asset Management & Derivatives Trading Protocol". Below this, two statistics are displayed: "TOTAL VALUE LOCKED" at $9,858,144 and "TOTAL BTCB DEPOSITED" at 300.00. A row of logos for community support, learning resources, bug bounty partners, and auditors is shown. At the bottom, the "Queen" token is featured, described as a "BTC-Tracking token with yield farming feature". A red arrow points to a yellow button labeled "Create/Redeem with BTCB", with a secondary grey button labeled "Trade with USDC" below it.

- Merging Token Bishop and Rook into Token Queen:

1. The Merge option is right beside Split. Put in the amount of Bishop & Rook you'd like to merge, and you will see an estimate amount of Queen you'd receive. Please note: Tranchess will always merge an equal amount of Bishop and Rook into Queen. If you are missing one of the two tokens but would like to merge some Queens, buy some on Tranchess Swap first. Find out a detailed guide on How to Trade Tokens.
