

Rho

Rho is the rate at which the price of an option changes relative to the risk-free interest rate. Imagine a call option is priced at $100 and has a rho of 0.50. If the risk free interest rate was to increase from 0 to 1%, then the price of the call would increase to $100.50.